

Broken Prayers

Broken Prayers is a song by Riley Clemmons. It is about being unafraid to talk to God. One line of the song particularly stands out to us. "Like being okay is the way to reach you."

God does not expect us to have it all together before we come to him. He knows our situations. Our struggles and pain. He knows the difficulties that each of us face. God loves us in those times just as much as ever. God is there for us in hard times. He is a tower of strength for us to turn to, Proverbs 18:10.

God is present in his church. The hands and feet of God in the world today are the hands and feet of his people. The hands and feet of each of us. We do not have to be okay before we can come to church. The church is the people of God. His people are there for us in our struggles and pain. The church understands and supports us in our difficulties. The church loves us and encourages us. It helps us continue to choose a life of faith.

Ephesians 3:10-12 NIV "His intent was that now, through the church, the manifold wisdom of God should be made known to the rulers and authorities in the heavenly realms, according to his eternal purpose that he accomplished in Christ Jesus our Lord. In him and through faith in him we may approach God with freedom and confidence."

God wants us to come to him today and every day. He does not want us to wait until we are okay, successful, have it all together, stopped that particular behavior, have the right clothes, feel the right way, whatever. God wants us to be unafraid to come to him right now. God's people are there for us right now. Right now, he can help and support us. Right now, the church welcomes us. Proverbs 18:10 "The name of the Lord is a fortified tower; the righteous run to it and are safe."

The Yarbroughs