

Thank you for hosting SGY Devos!

On Sunday night, we had our last regularly scheduled SGY Devo for this school year. It is a bittersweet moment. Devo ending means summer is coming. Summer is full of exciting opportunities and fun. Devo ending means that some people will not be coming back to Devo next year though. As our seniors move on and friends move away, our regular weekly fellowships will certainly look different when they start back up in the fall.

No matter how our group changes the fundamentals do not. Thanks to our generous and welcoming church family, we will be able to share a time of fellowship and worship together in a home. The church has been doing that for a long, long time. (Acts 2:46, Acts 5:42) It is wonderful to be part of that continuing tradition of our faith.

We truly appreciate so much everyone who has hosted a Youth Devo. It is sharing so much more than just a meal. You give our young people a chance to practice sharing their faith and to see a model of hospitality. You give them the gift of your time and getting to know you better. We believe Southgate and the church wherever Southgate's children go when they are grown up will be stronger because of the bonds of love and hospitality you built with them during their youth group days.

Thank you all for building up our teens by opening your home and hearts and sharing an evening with them this year. – The Yarbroughs
