

How to Overcome Fear

"There is no fear in love, but perfect love casts out fear. For fear has to do with punishment, and he who fears is not perfected in love." I John 4:18

Fear cripples us. Fear will cause us to stop the good we can do. Fear can even kill us. Fear is the opposite of faith. Faith is the remedy for fear. There is another thing that will stop fear in its tracks. That is LOVE. Why?

When someone loves you, you trust them. Trust is another word for faith. Faith is the opposite of fear. Think about it!

The creator of the universe loves you.

The one who knows all things loves you.

The one who has all authority loves you.

The one who is everywhere loves you.

The judge of all mankind loves you.

The one who has all power loves you.

The one who knows you inside and out loves you.

"What then shall we say to this? If God is for us, who is against us?"

So, why are we afraid?
